The Academic Program Description

Introduction:

The academic program is a coordinated and organized package of academic courses that include procedures and standards required in the form of academic vocabulary, the main purpose of which is to build and refine the skills of students making them qualified to meet the requirements of the labor market. It is reviewed and evaluated annually through internal or external audit procedures and programs such as the external evaluation program.

The description of the academic program provides a summary of the main features of the program and its structure, including the skills that students are working to acquire based on the objectives of the academic program. The importance of the description is evident because it represents the cornerstone of obtaining program accreditation, and the faculty staff participates in writing it under the supervision of the scientific committees in the scientific departments.

The guide in its second edition includes a description of the academic program after updating the vocabulary and terminology of the previous guide in light of the latest developments in the Educational system in Iraq, which included a change in the program in its traditional form (annual, quarterly), in addition to adopting the description of the academic program that circulated due to the letter of the Department of Studies, T.M. 3/333 in 2011, by the programs that adopt the Bologna Process as a basis for their work.

In this way, we can only emphasize the importance of writing descriptions of academic programs and courses to ensure the smooth conduct of the Educational process.

Concepts and terminology:

Description of the academic program: The academic program description provides a summary of its vision, mission, and objectives, including an accurate description of the targeted learning outcomes according to specific learning strategies.

Course Description: It provides a necessary summary of the most important characteristics of the course and the learning outcomes that the student is expected to achieve, demonstrating whether or not it makes the most of the learning opportunities available. It is derived from the program description.

Program vision: An ambitious picture for the future of the academic program to be an advanced, inspiring, motivating, realistic, and applicable program.

Program mission: It briefly explains the objectives and activities necessary to achieve them, and also identifies the program's development paths and directions.

١٤. Program development plan

- Developing a systematic plan that comprehensively covers the terminology of semantics, its topics, and research issues, and prevents the inclusion of terms, theories, or topics that are not related to semantics.
- Focusing on verbal structure as a manifestation of the rhetorical rule, the field of work of semantics, and the field of rhetorical application, gives the course its practical scope.
- It is necessary to familiarize the student with the rhetorical methods that constitute issues of semantics in Arabic speech by differentiating between the areas of the declarative sentence from the constructional sentence and the nominal sentence in both verbal sentences. Because of the rhetorical practice that each type of sentence entails.
